

Kinetiq is Motion

At Kinetiq we provide consulting and technology that deliver innovative solutions to the challenges of human subject protection and compliance. We serve the clinical research industry and the broader worlds of health care and research.

Why Kinetiq

- Our leaders share decades of experience in clinical research, compliance, regulatory analysis, and technology
- We understand the changing landscape and are able to develop contemporary approaches
- Proven, scalable software solutions that work for you

Medical writing

Let our medical writing specialists help you develop or edit grant proposals, protocols, consent forms, recruitment materials, clinical trial result summaries, and other study documents. We can also assist with a compliance review of your existing grant proposal, research protocol, consent form, and other regulatory submissions.

Business solutions

Kinetiq develops business solutions that increase your competitive advantage. We apply our expertise in process improvement and product engineering to deliver robust and scalable solutions via our Industry-recognized eConsent and Meeting Manager platforms. Everything we do is designed to increase your productivity and reduce your costs: your success means our success.

We help clients solve today's business problems and implement progressive solutions by bringing together experts in the areas of technology, clinical research, compliance, and human subject protection.
